Outlook

Groupe OPEN's growth in the first quarter of 2008 was in line with its objectives. According to the 2010 strategic plan, Groupe OPEN's ambition is to become one of the leading French companies in the IT services market, with targets of €450 million in revenue, an operating margin of 8% and 5000 employees by 2010. Reaching these objectives will require external growth operations, some of which are currently being looked into. The experience it has acquired in purchasing and integrating companies, combined with an excellent financial position, now give Groupe OPEN the means of speeding up its external growth projects.

Approval by the relevant antitrust authorities for the sale of LOGIX is expected by the end of May 2008.
